

Literacy rationale

At Blue Gate Fields Infant School we believe that literacy is a fundamental vehicle enabling children to understand and access all curriculum subjects.

Here at our school, we provide opportunities for children to speak, listen, read and write for a wide range of purposes.

Literacy builds on the children's skills and ability for independent learning and for them to flourish as whole individuals, not only within the school but also within the wider community.